SENIOR FORUM QUESTIONNAIRE

1. What has improved in your last four years at Carl Hayden?
   answer: The new construction has improved Carl Hayden High School; some of the teachers, and of course the students have improved.

2. What was the biggest problem with teenagers in trying to go out on a date?
   answer: Making sure that you get to be asked; and that your date has a car and money.

3. Has campus cops helped keep the peace?
   answer: 55 percent said no and 45 percent said yes.

4. What would you do different if you were in charge of the school?
   answer: Getting more teachers and students involved with the school and each other; and 25 percent said nothing.

5. Why do you think students don't have a lot of spirit when it comes to sports?
   answer: Most of the students are embarrassed to yell.

6. What would you do to prevent absences and tardies?
   answer: Enforce the rules: keep the system we have now.

7. Why do you think students dropout of school?
   answer: Many students have problems at home; many classes are not very interesting and too hard.

8. How would you change the style of teaching if you were a teacher?
   answer: Teacher and students getting together, more contact.

9. What new classes would you like here at Carl Hayden?
   answer: Sex education, photography, psychology, gymnastics for boys and girls.

10. What would you do about unduly familiarity with girl friends and boy friends on campus?
    answer: About 90 percent of the seniors said nothing, to leave them alone. Others said put a lover's lane in, suspend them, tell their mothers.

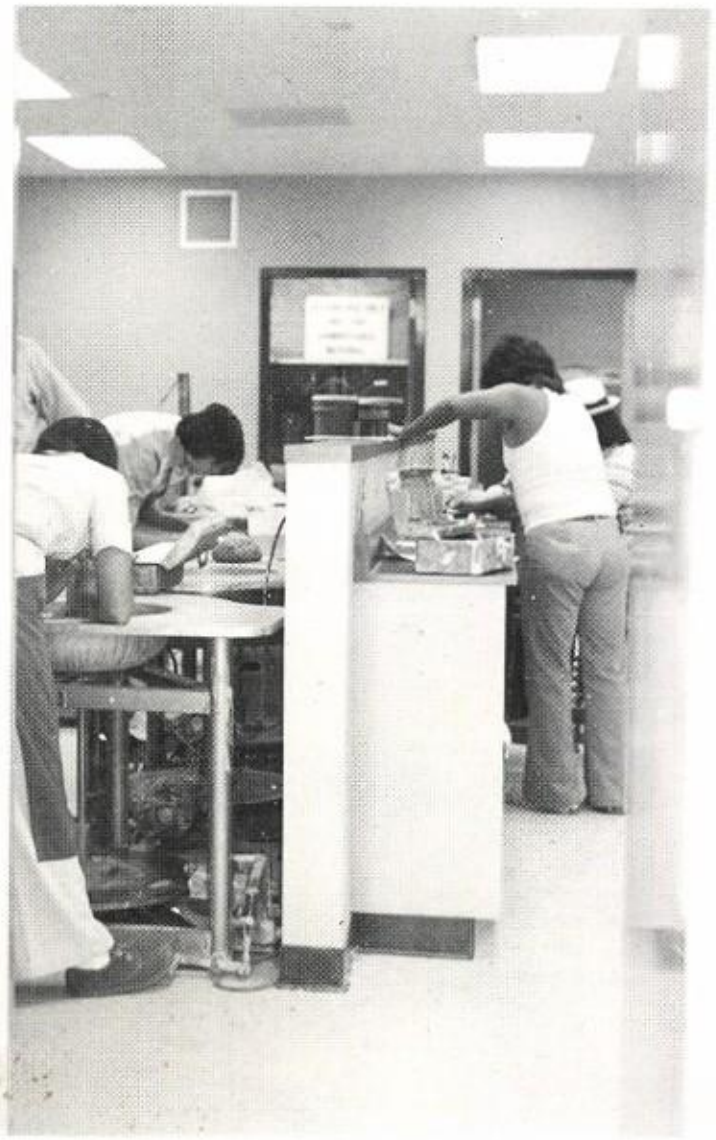
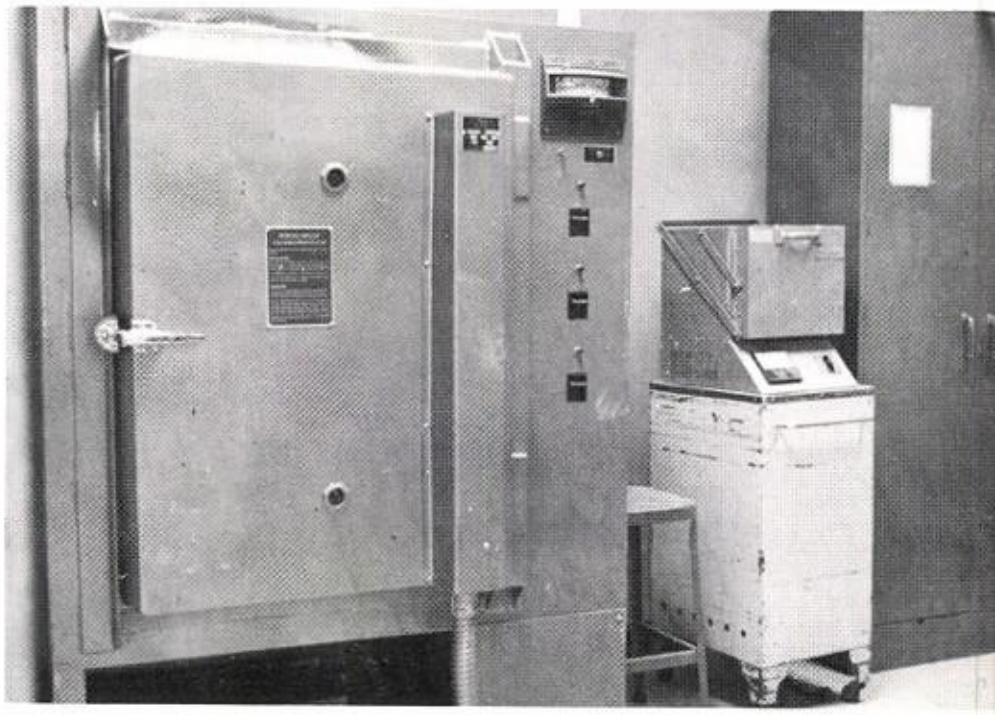
Ceramics class finally has elbow room to work.



With several new wheels and a large kiln, the ceramics class has finally turned upwards.

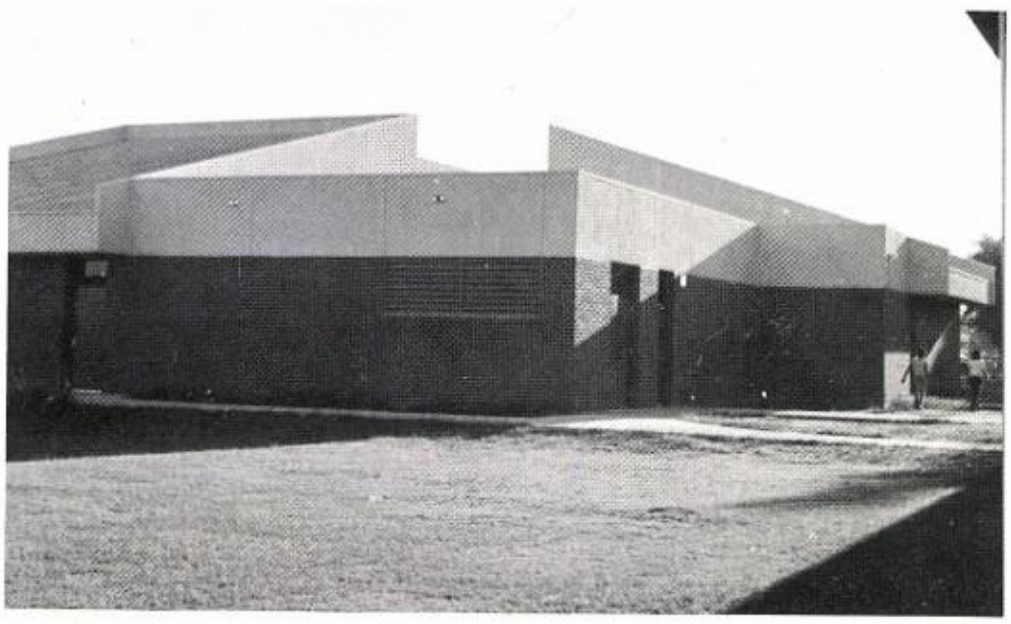


Advanced students working on their own, now have a room all to themselves; the room is also used for silk screening.

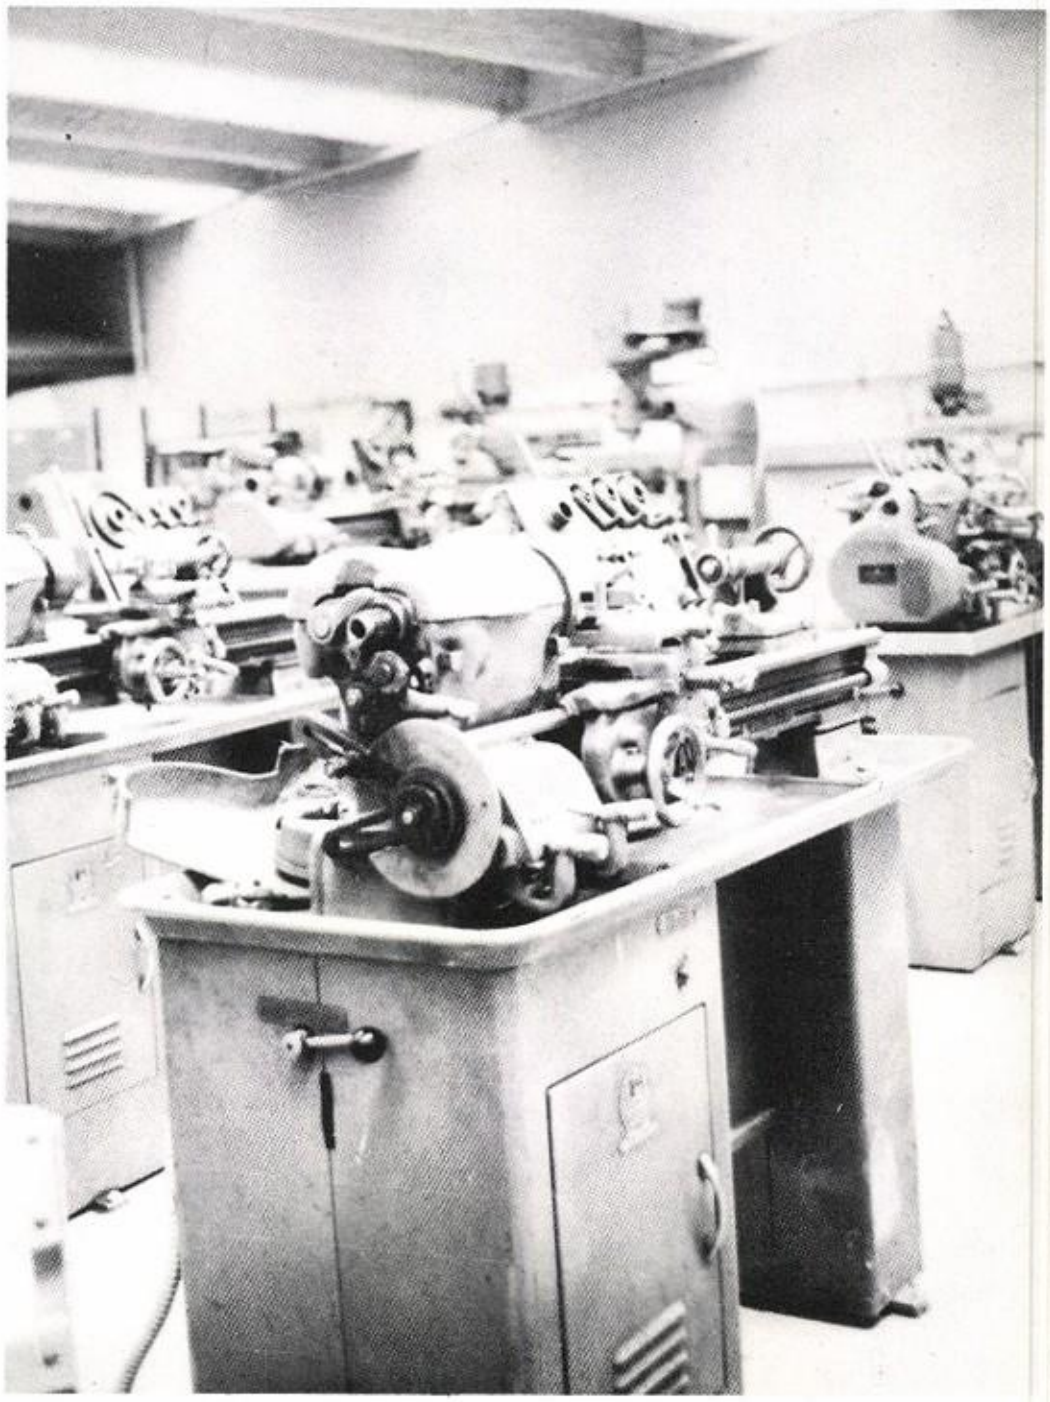
The hallway leading towards the crafts and ceramics rooms has several display cabinets for students works.

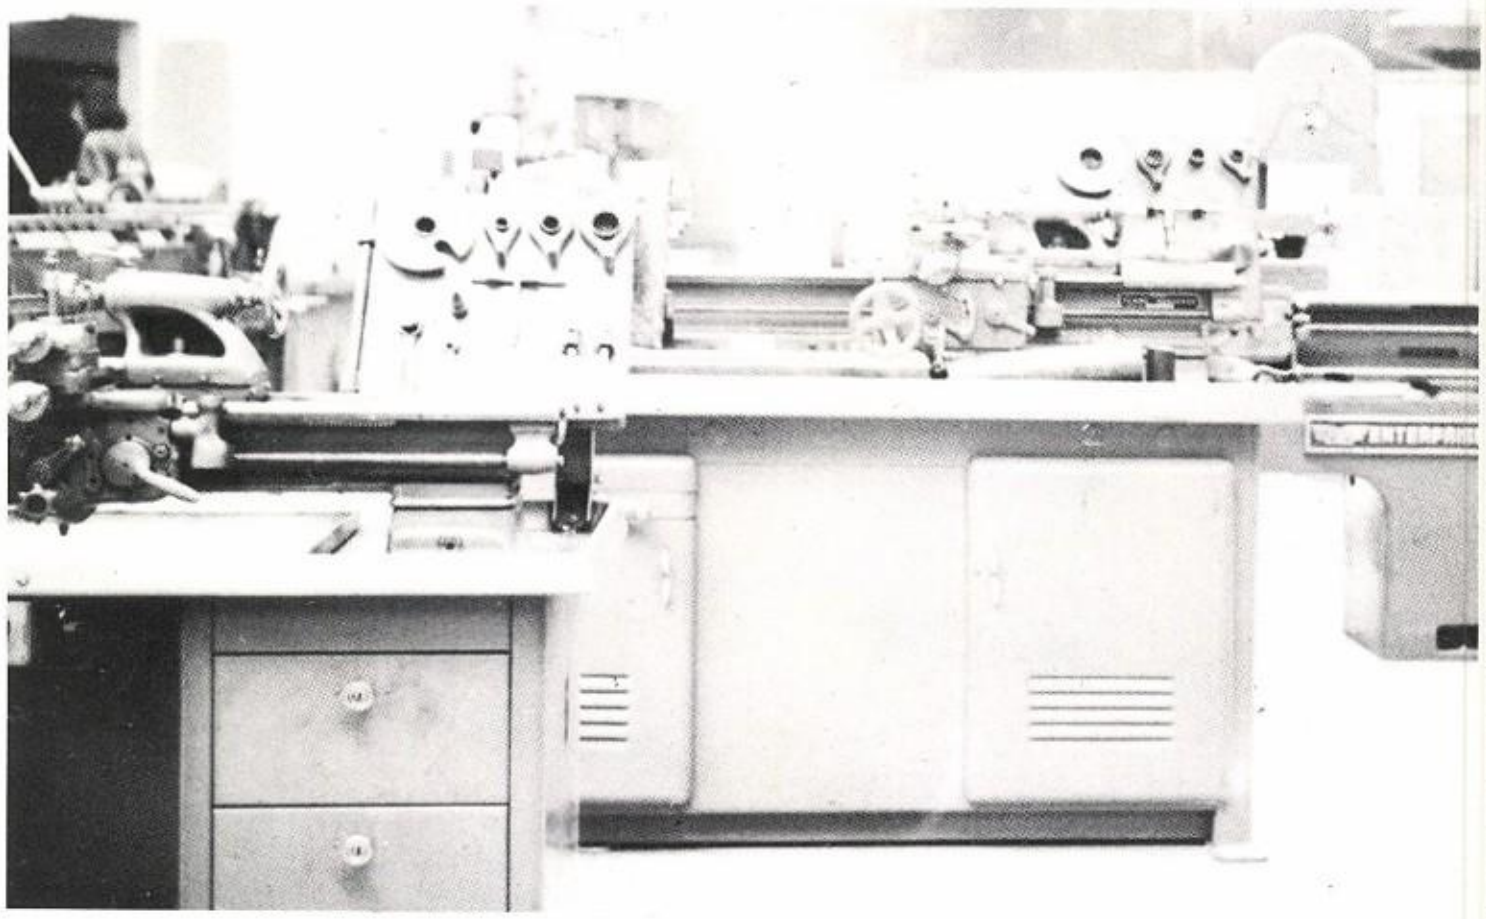
ART DEPT. NOW HAS ELBOW ROOM

Advanced art classes now have a nicer environment to work on jewelry, leather, painting, design, printing, weaving and other areas students are interested in.



The Industrial Arts complex has been completely revamped with an addition of a new building which includes the metals, drafting and Industrial Plastics labs, a double classroom, teachers workroom, display area and rest room facilities. The existing building has been remodeled providing larger work areas in the woods and electronics lab, a classroom and much needed storage space. Much new equipment and many new machines have been received to allow the students a more rounded education in the areas in Industrial Arts. With these facilities and the expanded curriculum, Carl Hayden students can study in most areas of the industrial world.



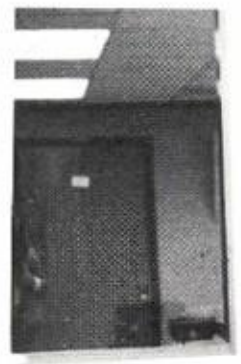


The gym(pictures 1 and 2)has quite a few new additions. They have added on a new multi-purpose room, a new dance room, a new weight room, the boys have new separate varsity locker room and girls have separate varsity dressing room in the existing P.E. locker room.

Skill Center (Pictures 3 and 4) In place of the old library is the new learning skill center. The new facilities include several offices and a large work area where teachers can help the students. The reception area, nicely done, Welcomes students as they come through the door. Also included in the skill Center are school psychologist, sight teacher, hearing teacher, speech therapist.

The new Instructional Materials Center (IMC) opened in November of 1976. The IMC is a reading and media center with plenty of room for students and teachers to work in. Facilities in the IMC include A.V. stockroom, a large teachers work are, teachers lounge, a dark room, a T.V. studio and control room and included in the T.V. studio are complete facilities for color video productions.

The new Counseling Facilities provide a better convenience for students and counselors. Also included in the new Administration building are new areas for the health center, registration office, a conference room, school worker security aids office, a C.E.T.A., a youth advisors office and an Indian youth advisors office.



1. The new library building was constructed out of the old Art building.

In the new library building they have supplementary materials for all phases of the curriculum and recreational reading — over twenty-three thousand books, numerous phamphlets, over a hundred magazines, and many audio visual items.

FROM THE STAFF:

Nineteen Seventy Six and Seven were the years Carl Hayden High School saw its most spectacular growth ever in its history, making it one of the largest and best equipped schools in Arizona. Carl Hayden is also one of the few schools in the state with a balanced mixture of races and nationalities, creating an environment for its students to learn the real meaning of brotherhood. This was also the year the school grew close to the community with the opening of the new "Community School" providing evening classes for adults. Carl Hayden High School, a school Phoenix is proud of.
